his position. Yesterday, Ridgeway was brought before the Bench and committed for trial, but allowed bail.

CORONER'S INQUIRY.—On Saturday evening an inquest, which did not terminate until a late hour, was held before the Coroner at the house of Mrs. Beirne, on the North Shore, on view of the body of Marcella Lally. From the evidence of Mrs. Lally, the mother of the deceased, it appears that she was an infant only twenty months old. On Friday morning the witness went down to the hill to bring the deceased with her. The child, who had been sleeping, was tired, and then fell asleep, the witness making her a bed about six yards from the fire. Having occupied return home, witness left deceased for about ten minutes, she being still asleep.—I am, your affectionately,

THE MOOKERWA DIGGINGS.
(From the Bathurst Free Press).
Ever since the commencement of the winter's rains, a few parties have been at work on the Mookerwa Creek, and the fact of their remaining there proves that they must at least have been doing a remunerative business. Latterly, however, since the weather became fine, the digging population has been gradually augmenting, and there are now from 90 to 100 diggers on the ground, all, or nearly all of whom, are well. As the soil is so thoroughly soaked with water, the creek is not likely to run dry for some time. In the early part of the golden harvest, the people of Wellington are transplanting themselves from the township to the diggings. Being unable, on account of the water, to do anything in the bed of the creek, the miners have taken themselves to the banks and alluvial flats, which were previously only suspected to be auriferous, thus proving, as in numerous other instances, that the gold digging community are principally indebted to the authorities for the discovery of the richest auriferous fields. The miners are also in a deficiency that has occurred in each year, and the amount of taxes imposed, and taxes repealed. The years 1823, 1825, 1830, and 1845, are those distinguished by the greatest reduction of duties. In 1823, the salt tax, and assesses taxes to a large amount were the articles chiefly dealt with; in 1825, wine and tobacco; in 1830, gold; and in 1845, sugar, cotton, and glass. The years 1840 and 1842, are those in which the greatest amount of new duties were imposed, the usual articles, and more strongly marked than ordinarily, of the precious metal would be dug out of the golden sands of Mookerwa. Nuggets are occasionally found on the very hill tops. A black fellow lately picked up one of 41 ounces on the surface, which has since been sold at the bank, and a more beautiful specimen could not well be imagined. These best acquainted with the country speak in positive terms of its richness. Wherever the soil is turned up gold is to be found, and many of the creeks and gullies, the hundred or greater number of them, and stopped, have given the miners a good chance to have heard the rush of the bushes, and to see the deceased sitting on the ground, from which he must have been violently thrown during the few moments that the witness was occupied in running from the window to the door. From the marks on the unfortunate man's body, it would seem that the wheel of the day had passed over his shoulder and chest. The witness and her brother ran to his assistance, but he almost immediately expired. Thomas Walsh, residing beyond the hill, and on Sunday evening, with the deceased on Sunday evening, he said that he was drunk, he said that he considered him to be capable of minding his team. The Coroner commented in forcible terms upon the common recklessness of the class to which the deceased belonged. The evidence showed that a drunken man was allowed by his master to start in sole charge of a team of young bullocks, and to be guilty of the dangerous practice of riding on the pole of the dray. The jury returned a verdict of death from injuries accidentally received.

Witnesses Watkins and Dean beg to remain buyers for the Port Phillip market, and will sell, this day, at half past ten, tea, rice, salt, and oil, 100 lbs. flour, 100 lbs. sugar, rum, gin, whisky, brandy, bottled beer, &c.

To informers.—Mr. George A. Lloyd sells, at the City Mart, this morning, at 11 o'clock, 2000 lbs. best bacon, 100 lbs. ham, 100 lbs. hams, lots of money, as per advertisement. Also, chromicetone, gold salts, watches, guns, &c.

NEWS FROM THE INTERIOR.
(From our Correspondents.)

SOFALA.

Orosa, 13.—STABBING.—On Monday morning last, intelligence was received that a murder had been committed the previous evening, at Berriwa Hill. Sergeant Gainer, who had proceeded to the spot and found that John Burns, a shoemaker, residing at that place, had quarrelled with his wife, a neighbour named Johnson, and died, when unmercifully stoned up a life and stoned him, killing him in the liver some 12 inches deep. Fortunately a Mr. Stevenson, of the R.A. Gold Mining Company, who had some knowledge of surgery was encamped near, and rendered his assistance to the wounded man, who still alive, but not expected to recover. Sergeant Gainer, after a long search, found Burns hidden amongst some sheepskins in a hut about three miles from his own residence, and brought him in here to await his examination. Mr. Commissioner McLean is sent to take the depositions of Sergeant Gainer, and collect further evidence.

OPHIR.

Orosa, 15.—After a long pause, I address a few hurried lines upon the present condition of Ophir, after a long, very wet winter—a winter of floods and storms, which drove away nearly all our men, the few remaining forming a living at dry land diggings. We have now, however, fine streams, and the creeks are nearly as low as when the water-hole was drained last summer; and should bright days and nights continue, there is no doubt we shall soon have a goodly number of miners in the beds of our two main creeks. The largest number of diggers in our district are to be found at the Mookerwa and the Macquarie, including the Bald-hill Diggings. At the former place the water will not last more than a month if the dry weather continues, which we may expect a visit from the miners now there.

A few days ago, the son of one of our diggers at the original diggings at the junction, picked up a very clean nugget, weighing exactly 9 oz. 13 dwt., which was purchased at 6s. per oz. At the Upper Crossing Place, on the Sheepwash Creek, the few diggers there are doing well, at dry diggings on both sides of the creek; I saw a very handsome specimen the other day, which was found in a long-ton, with other gold after a few hours. There were well over all about five ounces, the nugget weighing about four.

It is expected that the draining of one or more of our waterholes will soon be commenced, and that some of our quartz veins will soon be reduced under the direction of Mr. Spencer, who with his mining corps is expected here shortly.

Provisions at Ophir are awfully high. The following are a few of the prices—Flour, 4s. per lb.; potatoes, 30s. per lb.; bread, 9d.; butter, 1s. 6d.; cheese, 2s. 6d. per lb.; bacon, 2s. 6d. per lb.; ham, 2s. 6d. per lb.; beef and mutton, 2s. 6d. per lb.

The dry diggings here, I have no doubt, would pay well in the hands and under the direction of practical miners, or experienced diggers.

I beg to apologize for my long silence, but you must set it down to the credit of the wet weather.

NEW DIGGINGS ON THE TABLE LAND, AT BELL'S CREEK.

The new diggings, which have been so successfully commenced in this locality, are situated in what is called Bell's Horse Pasture, on the table land immediately behind the head of Bell's Creek. The geological formation is similar to the lower ground, a micaceous sandstone, with protruding masses of granite, gneiss, porphyry, serpentine, and narrow veins of quartz.

The first digging commenced in September, and during the month 224 claims were taken out. The gold appears to be very generally scattered, and to lie in pockets rather than in veins, and in some cases very close to the surface. It is of very considerable purity, so far as the miners are concerned, though some of the nuggets are exceedingly rich, as much as seven and eleven pennies weight per ounce, having passed through the hands of George Wall, in one place, without much success. In another, however, he has to work with a few others, before your very efficient and courageous Doctor thought proper to give us any further orders. He then came alongside in his boat, and ordered, with a very suspicious grin upon his face, the emigrants to be sent ashore, to wash, &c., and our very clean and good ship's Kate to be fumigated, which might have been done by this time had he given us the orders at first; but he appears to glory in delay and remissness. The effect of that order, however, was early evident, and now causes the poor creatures could not be brought to understand him, and began to frightened themselves with all sorts of horrible terrors, the absurdity of some of which was truly ridiculous. However, to show them they were conveyed in boats, and saw our captain and doctor, and was told the true state of affairs, about four o'clock on Sunday, so much behind him before he came. We were the same evening ordered off to the Quarantine Ground, where we proceeded next morning, for what reasons we could not tell, unless to gratify some pugus the Doctor might have against his friends on board, to have a talk with them. We waited in quarantine for a week, and then, on the 2nd October, before your very efficient and courageous Doctor thought proper to give us any further orders. He then came alongside in his boat, and ordered, with a very suspicious grin upon his face, the emigrants to be sent ashore, to wash, &c., and all sorts of treachery, as he said, and all sorts of treachery. To cut short the story; one poor soul, who had been fumigated, but had, by over exertion in attending on his brother during his illness, lost his strength, very low, died on the beach, and we sent to shore a poor woman only a few days confined, whom no Doctor would think it possible to remove without almost ensuring death, who we fear, will go next, and then I suppose your very efficient and humane doctor will think we are purified. Then, perhaps, we will think the joke complete, if we add the excitement of friends on shore to the indignation and fears of the 300 on board, and the loss to commercial men in Sydney, and to the owners of the vessel, with the loss of the services of the people on board to the colony, at a time when labour is so scarce, and the injury it may do to the colony by deterring others from attempting to come here after the letters we will most likely receive from the emigrants by the Kate.

We shall take no harm for a few days, and others will see that this matter is looked into properly. In haste.

I am, your affectionately,

B. S. HAIGH.

Mr. C. S. Haigh, Sydney.

ENGLISH NEWS.

THE NATIONAL REVENUE.

A PARLIAMENTARY paper, recently published, furnishes the material for the following table, showing the annual revenue of the United Kingdom during the 30 years from 1822 to 1851 inclusive, and the amount of deficiency that has occurred in each year, and the amount of taxes imposed, and taxes repealed.

The years 1823, 1825, 1830, and 1845, are those distinguished by the greatest reduction of duties. In 1823, the salt tax, and assesses taxes to a large amount were the articles chiefly dealt with; in 1825, wine and tobacco; in 1830, gold; and in 1845, sugar, cotton, and glass. The years 1840 and 1842, are those in which the greatest amount of new duties were imposed, the usual articles, and more strongly marked than ordinarily, of the existence of gold. All that is wanted to make Wellington a busy and flourishing district is a supply of water and an industrious population. The former is almost an insurmountable difficulty, the existence of which is a serious obstacle to the removal of the latter.

Since the above was written we have received the following additional particulars from undoubted sources. The prosperity of the district appears to be on the increase, and what is a natural consequence of any of the mines, &c., are making good wages or very well. Nuggets of 2, 3, 4 oz. and upwards, are turned up every day. A party of three Hibernians had a highly profitable claim, out of which they quickly dug £150 worth of gold, the whole of which they distributed to the miners, and the existing customs and excise duties having been adopted in the former, and the income tax in the latter. Out of the 30 years embraced in the table, 19 exhibited a surplus, and 11 a deficiency:

PROGRESS OF THE ELECTIONS.

By the receipt of English papers to the 9th of July, we are enabled to give some particulars of interest respecting the election. The struggle to that time seems to have turned more on the question of Free Trade than was expected, and has been decided in favour of the supporters of the Free Traders.

The numbers polled for the respective candidates in the City of London election, were as follows:

Mr. Masterman	534
Lord Russell	4,666
Mr. James Duke	4,469
Baron Rothschild	4,096
Mr. W. E. Forster	3,679

Mr. Edward Millar appears to have been elected for Rochdale—not Rochester, as previously stated.

Lord Mahon had been rejected at Hartford by the following result of the poll:

Cowper	302
Lord Mahon	246
Best	182
Wright	146
Lowell	130

Viscount Palmerston had been returned for Tiverton without opposition.

The numbers polled for the respective candidates in the City of London election, were as follows:

Mr. Masterman	534
Lord Russell	4,666
Mr. James Duke	4,469
Baron Rothschild	4,096
Mr. W. E. Forster	3,679

FURNISHED Apartments to Let with Board, if required. Apply to Mr.
COVAN, 34, Elizabeth and Liverpool st., 1691

TO LET for a term of years, all those extensive and substantially-built Premises, known as the Brisbane Sugar Works, formerly used as a Flour Mill, situated in Parrattas-street, Sydney, with the steam engine and machinery therein, as may be agreed. The main building consists of four stories, besides the attics and ground floor, and measures (exclusive of the engine-room and boiler room) 70 feet by 46 feet. The whole premises, including a spacious piece of ground are enclosed by a stone wall, near ten feet high.

Also,

The large four-story Stone Building and Ap-partments, near the above property, and adjoining the Steam Flour Mill occupied by Mr.
Pemell, together with the right of water from the Dam in the rear. These premises are substantially built, and of great extent, being 156 feet by 46 feet, or thereabout, with a large piece of vacant ground on three sides of them.
Either of the above properties, according to adapted for a flour mill or cloth factory, from the greatest extent, the substantial character of the buildings, and their situation, being in what must shortly become the very centre of Sydney, and with a few hundred yards of the proposed Haymarket Terminus. Responsible parties will be treated with liberal terms.

Applications may be forwarded to the un-designed, but will not be decided on till the 30th day of November, in order to afford time for parties at a distance from Sydney.

ROBEY AND CO.
Sydney, October 12. 1850
